

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO WINS SWITCHING CASE

Decision of Tremendous Importance to City's Progress; Case Was Bitterly Contested

The Interstate Commerce Commission, on Monday, ruled that the Southern Pacific Railroad has discriminated against South San Francisco, both in its adjustment of rates and in restricting the San Francisco switching limits so as to exclude South San Francisco—and this ruling gave to South San Francisco a well-earned victory in its demand to be placed on an equality with other industrial sections throughout the State.

The Interstate Commerce Commission decision follows a long-drawn-out legal battle between this city and the transportation company, which fought the case vigorously. In May, 1917, facts of the discrimination existing against South San Francisco were laid before nearly two hundred business men of San Francisco and the peninsula at a luncheon in the Palace Hotel, presided over by Dr. F. S. Dolley, lower switching charge than existed on the San Francisco side of the bay, the company had been compelled to grant this lower rate in order to secure a valuable franchise.

Following this declaration P. R. Thompson, transportation director of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, for the Manufacturers' Association of South San Francisco, directed his energies to a cohesion of various commercial and civic bodies to secure for the city of San Francisco and its peninsula an adjustment of rates and switching limits which would place that section on a parity with other territory in California.

The Board of Supervisors of the city of San Francisco on June 4, 1917, passed a resolution pledging the city to intervene in the matter when presented to the Railroad Commission, and further pledged the services of the "law department of the city and county of San Francisco to aid in winning the fight to be made by the people of our neighboring city, South San Francisco."

Strong Support

Practically every civic body of importance in San Francisco and San Mateo county upheld the contention and pledged support in South San Francisco's demands for equality.

When the case was finally presented

The checked area on the map shows territory discriminated against by the Southern Pacific Company, and which has been included in the San Francisco switching limits by reason of the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The decision will effect the saving of thousands of dollars yearly in freight rates to the manufacturers and merchants of South San Francisco.

representing the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. The luncheon was attended by members of the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, secretaries of various civic and commercial bodies and representatives of large shipping interests.

Admits Discrimination

At that meeting, G. W. Luce of the Southern Pacific Railroad admitted that, while Oakland and other cities of the east bay section enjoyed a by the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce to the State Railroad Commission in February of last year, the following bodies intervened: The Manufacturers' Association of South San Francisco, San Mateo Development Association, the city of South San Francisco, city and county of San Francisco and the industrial executive committee of civic associations,

COUNTY CLERK JOS. H. NASH DIES ON THURSDAY

PROFOUND GRIEF IN ENTIRE COMMUNITY WHEN EFFICIENT PUBLIC OFFICER SUCCEUMS AFTER MONTH'S ILLNESS.

County Clerk Jos. H. Nash died Thursday morning at the family home in Wellesley Park, near Redwood City, at the age of 41. Death came as the result of a weakened heart, following nearly a month's illness with pleurisy and bronchial pneumonia.

His wife, mother, sister and two brothers were at his bedside when the end came peacefully at 5:45 o'clock in the morning.

Joseph Henry Nash was born in San Rafael, September 17, 1877. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Nash, his parents, came to San Mateo county in 1880, where his father taught school for several years. Jos. Nash first attended school in Halfmoon Bay, later going to old Napa College for a business course, and completing his education at St. Mary's College.

He achieved political prominence in 1906 when elected County Clerk, an office which he filled uninterruptedly to the time of his death. Jos. H. Nash was no exception to other successful public men, and in several political campaigns keen competition developed between himself and opposing candidates for the office of County Clerk. Each election only emphasized more strongly the confidence of the electors, and at the recent elections he was returned for the fourth term by a magnificent majority of nearly three to one.

A Power in County

His following of personal friends, to whom he was intimately known as "Joe," was legion, and he was a powerful factor in the political and business affairs of the county.

He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Lizzie Meta Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mienke of Moss Beach, to whom he was married in 1911.

A mother, Mrs. J. C. Nash; two brothers, Clement J. and Frank J., and one sister, Mrs. A. P. Stevenson, are also left to grieve.

The funeral will be held at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning from his late residence in Wellesley Park, thence to St. Matthew's Catholic Church in San Mateo, where a requiem high mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock. The remains will be buried beside those of his father in St. John's Cemetery. The funeral arrangements are in charge of George W. Snider & Co.

Jos. H. Nash was a member of San Mateo Lodge of Elks, the Knights of Columbus, San Mateo Parlor of Native Sons, the Fraternal Order of Eagles and other societies.

JOSE VETUS CLAIMS ROOM WAS ROBBED

GUEST AT METROPOLITAN HOTEL ALLEGES LOSS OF VALUABLES; ROBERT BROWN HELD FOR DEFRAUDING.

Jose Vetus, a Filipino employed at the shipyard, claims the loss of a ladies' diamond solitaire ring valued at $250, a watch, chain and charm worth $60 and $15 in money, which he states was purloined from his room at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Jose claims he left the valuables in his room and when he returned Thursday in the early morning hours, he found his room had been ransacked.

Officer McGraw was called in by the hotel management and questioned one of the guests, who was suspected of the robbery, but no trace of the missing articles could be found.

Held for Defrauding

Robert E. Brown was apprehended in San Francisco on Thursday upon a complaint issued by the management of the Metropolitan Hotel for defrauding an innkeeper. He is indebted to the hotel for $12. The prisoner was taken by Chief of Police Conrad from the Hall of Justice to the San Mateo jail, where he was lodged for the night. Brown appeared before Recorder Dowd on Friday morning and pleaded "Not guilty" to the charge.

Brown left the hotel at 4 o'clock Thursday morning, against the protests of Mrs. McCuen, the housekeeper, and the warrant for his arrest followed.

In an interview with a representative of The Enterprise, Brown stated that he was fearful of staying in South San Francisco because suspicion might be directed against him because of the robbery of the room of Jose Vetus, with whom he was friendly, they having worked together at the shipyard.

Brown was held in $25 cash bail or a surety bond of $50. He will have a hearing before Judge Dowd on Monday morning.

HUNTERS POINT SITE PURCHASED BY S. P.

Purchase of 125 acres of level land between its tracks in Visitacion Valley and the bay shore a mile south of Hunters Points by the Southern Pacific Railroad has been consummated, according to Umben, Kerner & Eisert, San Francisco realty agents.

The property includes the previous holdings of a number of land owners, who realized big profits on the sale. It was always the dream of the late E. H. Harriman, railroad magnate, to control this land and build an elaborate system of deep-water wharves, docks and warehouses. It is stated on good authority that the Southern Pacific Company will now construct such a great transfer point where railroads and ships may meet.

The railroad company by virtue of the deal just closed gains the ownership of the 600-foot San Mateo canal and the Guadalupe canal.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PLANS PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

CITY'S ADVANTAGES TO BE ADVERTISED; FORMER OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED.

The Chamber of Commerce proposes to conduct a vigorous publicity campaign, directing attention of industries to the manifold advantages of South San Francisco for the location of manufactories, now that the former disadvantage of discriminatory switching charges and limits has been removed by the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

P. R. Thompson was appointed chairman of the publicity committee and empowered to make his own selection of those who will serve with him. It will be the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce to raise a substantial fund for financing this advertising.

In addition to items which will be furnished the press of San Francisco and San Mateo county, advertising literature will be distributed in Eastern cities, and a systematic campaign of keeping South San Francisco before prospective investors will be conducted.

Election of Officers.

The annual election of officers was held on Tuesday, W. H. Dinning and J. G. Walker being respectively elected president and secretary to serve their third successive terms. In a true spirit of democracy, W. H. Dinning protested vigorously against "the third term as president," but his objections were smothered by a call for a rising vote, which unanimously swept him into office.

Andrew Hynding placed the name of City Attorney J. W. Coleberd in nomination for vice-president. He was unanimously elected.

President Dinning was empowered to select a board of five directors for the ensuing year, and has made the following appointments: F. A. Cunningham, Andrew Hynding, Dr. J. C. McGovern, A. McSweeney and Dr. F. S. Dolley.

P. R. Thompson presented a resolution asking the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce for the bill introduced in the present session of the legislature which will transfer the harbor of San Francisco from State to municipal control. The resolution was adopted.

To "Investigate" Thompson

P. R. Thompson, when called upon to elaborate on the decision of the Railroad Commission in the switching case and explain exactly how broad it was, summed the decision up briefly by saying "We have gotten from the commission all we asked for—in short, we have won."

W. J. Martin then proposed that E. C. Peck, Andrew Hynding and F. A. Cunningham be appointed a committee of three to "investigate this man Thompson, who has come among us and by his undue activity secured this switching rate for the city of South San Francisco. Something should be done to him—and perhaps for him—I leave that to the committee to find out," continued Mr. Martin, "and I know that the punishment will more than fit the crime," he concluded.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be held Tuesday, February 11.

R. L. HARRIS AND WIFE MEET WITH ACCIDENT IN S. F.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harris, who were knocked down by an automobile in San Francisco last Sunday evening, are doing as well as can be expected at the home of Mrs. Harris' sister, Mrs. A. A. Whitten, on Miller avenue.

SAN BRUNO NOTES

Miss Elizabeth Lindsey returned to her home in Fourth Addition after a two weeks' visit with her grandmother in San Jose.

M. McCabe is recovering from the flu and is able to be out again.

An eight-pound baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. Schumacher in Belle Air Park Tuesday.

Mrs. Sawin of Lomita Park and little daughter, Lillian, have been very seriously ill with influenza, but are improving.

Mrs. C. Able was a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. N. Holliday and spent Wednesday in San Bruno.

The Lomita Park Hall Association will give an impromptu whist party and dance Saturday, February 15, in the Lomita Park schoolhouse. Eight prizes will be given, including door prizes. Score cards, 25 cents. Refreshments, 10 cents for adults and 5 cents for children.

The ladies of the Lomita Park Guild have cleared the weeds from the yard of the church, put in walks and made all ready for plants in the future, making a decided improvement in the appearance of the property.

Dr. George W. White, district superintendent of San Francisco district, will preach Sunday morning in the M. E. Church. Now that restrictions for the flu are past, it is to be hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Dr. White. Services commence at 11 o'clock.

The Girl Scouts will give a whist party February 7 at their headquarters.

This paper wishes to correct the error made in last week's report of Girl Scouts' receipts for the year, which read $19. It should be $190.

Carter H. Barrett was a visitor at the home of T. W. Forster on Monday. Mr. Barrett received his discharge from the Grizzlies last week and left Wednesday for Los Angeles to resume the business which he left to enlist in the service.

Marvin Russell has received his discharge from the service and is expected home this week.

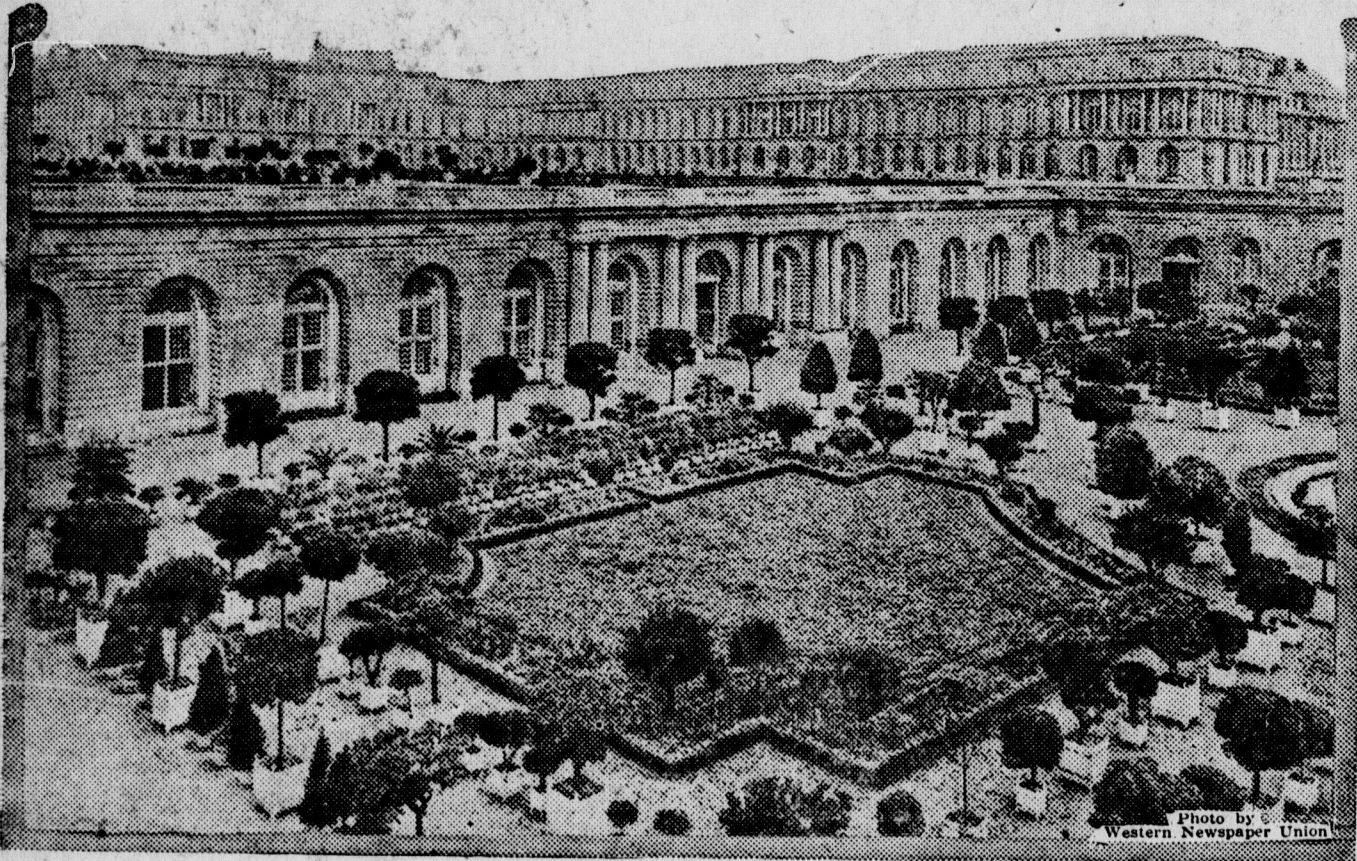

Schools will be opened on Monday next.

ROOSEVELT'S ONLY SPANKING.

In "The Boy's Life of Theodore Roosevelt," just published by Harper & Brothers, Hermann Hagedorn gives the story of Colonel Roosevelt's life from his birth. Not so very far from the title page is recorded the story of his first spanking. "It happened this way," says the author. "For some reason or other not quite clear he had bitten his sister's arm. This was a crime, he knew, and he fled forthwith to the back yard and thence to the kitchen where the cook, who was Irish, was baking bread. He seized a handful of dough (preparedness!) and crawled under the kitchen table. A minute later his father entered the yard, asking for Theodore. The cook was warm-hearted, and compromised between 'informing' and her conscience by casting a significant glance under the table. The elder Theodore Roosevelt dropped on all-fours and darted for the younger. That fugitive from justice heaved the dough at him and bolted for the stairway. He was caught half-way up and treated as, on the whole, he deserved."

RED MEN PLAN BALL TO HONOR BOYS COMING HOME

That new interest is cropping out in Tippecanoe Tribe No. 111, is shown by the report of the entertainment committee, which has under way plans for the event of the season.

The first Saturday evening after the flu ban is lifted, the boys from across the seas will be entertained, and the annual ball to be given in their honor promises to eclipse all former events. South San Francisco, San Francisco, San Mateo and other neighboring towns will be invited to turn out.

The appeal of the great sachem of this reservation for war work and injured Red Men's fund is being supported generously by the members. The spirit of good will and brotherhood is in the air, and the heart is cold indeed that is not moved with a desire to add to the happiness of others.

We earnestly urge every good American wage-earner, for the sake of his dependents, his own comfort, physical and mental, to join a fraternal organization that is purely American.

Fraternalty yours,
GEORGE W. HAGEDORN.

BOY HERO RETURNS HOME

Here, between two husky friends, is Elmer Geyer, probably the youngest American soldier who took active part in the fighting, returned to his native soil. He is only fourteen years old, hails from East Pittsburgh, Pa., and was attached to the Three Hundred and Eighteenth Infantry. He was employed as a dispatch runner and was intrusted with an important message after 14 other men had attempted to deliver the message and were killed by German snipers. Elmer delivered the message, but was severely wounded.

FRESH TONG WAR RESULTS IN KILLING

DONG YEE, SAN MATEO GARDENER, IS SLAIN IN CHINATOWN STORE.

A fresh tong outbreak in San Francisco early Tuesday evening extended to San Mateo and resulted in the murder of Dong Yee, 45 years old, a gardener employed by Captain H. A. Payson, president of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, who lives on El Camino Real in San Mateo. The slaying of Dong Yee occurred in the rear of a store in Chinatown on First avenue at about 6 o'clock. The body was not found until about an hour later.

The assassin of Dong Yee crept to a door behind the Chinese, who was bending over a cupboard to get a bowl of rice. He fired four shots, three of them taking effect in close proximity in the right cheek and temple, killing Yee instantly. As he fell to the floor dead, the assailant fired another shot which buried itself in the floor beside the slain man.

Chief of Police Thomas F. Burke and Officer Ed Klima rushed to the scene as soon as notified and carried on a careful investigation. The rear of San Mateo's Chinatown is an intricate affair, and that added to the fact that the slayer had an hour start of the police, handicapped matters.

Chinese in the very near vicinity of the shooting deny hearing any shots. Tom Finn, Southern Pacific gate tender at First and Railroad avenues, who was 100 feet from the scene of the murder, heard the shots, however, and saw the supposed assailant enter the rear alley, from which entrance was gained to Dong Yee's kitchen. Two people in front of Levy Bros.' store on Second avenue also heard the shots, they told the police.

Hindenburg, writes Correspondent Lyons, looks tired and careworn. Evidently the old man misses the vacation he planned to take in Paris.

COUNTY GRAND JURY FILES FINAL REPORT

INQUISITORIAL BODY MAKES NO STARTLING DISCLOSURES IN CLOSING INVESTIGATIONS.

The Grand Jury filed its final report and was discharged by Judge Buck of the Superior Court last Monday afternoon. Investigations of the judicial body brought out no startling disclosures.

Eric Wold, grand jury expert, reported the finances of the county in good condition.

A special committee, composed of Ben H. Truax, John B. Clarke and E. Ryan, was appointed to investigate gambling in the north end of the county. The appointment of the committee followed the receipt of a number of anonymous letters complaining of gambling. The committee brought in a separate report that "They were unable to obtain any evidence of gambling in this section."

Recommendations for the discontinuance of the temporary detention home were included in the report of the inquisitorial body.

Following are the additional reports of the various committees:

Report of Salary Committee

Your committee begs to present, as the result of its inquiries, the following notes and recommendations:

The increase in county officials' salaries, which took effect January 1, 1919, is timely and satisfactory, although a discrimination exists which calls for an adjustment.

We recommend to our Senator, Hon. M. B. Johnson, and our Assemblyman, Hon. Frank L. Ekswold, that they look into the county officials' salaries of counties that are in the same class as the county of San Mateo, and that they do what they can to equalize the salaries of our officials and deputies.

We recommend that the deputies in the sheriff's office, known as jailer and court room deputy, have their salaries increased from $100 to $125 per month.

We also recommend to our honorable Board of Supervisors that they discontinue the salaries of the special policeman and the policewoman now stationed at Camp Fremont, on and after March 1, 1919.

Report on Roadhouses

The public morals committee met on Saturday, January 11, and visited roadhouses from Belmont to the San Francisco county line.

We found that the majority of places were evading the closing ordinance, as lights were not extinguished at closing hour. The conduct in the majority of places was orderly.

We recommend that an officer visit the roadhouse known formerly as Coppa's, now E. Croce, proprietor, as we found ordinance No. 216 is being violated.

In the place conducted by J. M. Barrow (Sixteen-Mile House) we found a very youthful crowd. Generally speaking, we find the morality of the county of a very high standard owing to the enforcement of federal and county laws.

On Saturday, December 21, the morals committee met and visited the coastside resorts.

We visited the Petroni house, where we dined. At 11:30 p. m. we visited Tomei and found the doors locked. After knocking, doors were opened and drinks served upon request. At Tore's drinks were served, but no money was taken.

All other resorts on coastside were closed.

Report of the Indigent Committee
January 25, 1919.

We have investigated the condition of those aided by the county and find that on the whole the poor of the county have been fairly and adequately taken care of, but we would make the following recommendation:

We recommend that, owing to the increased cost of living, that at least $15 per month be allowed for the wards of the court, and that board should be paid for children up to the age of 14.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1919.

The City's Future

BY D. E. CURLEY

South San Francisco has won its switching case and its Chamber of Commerce has proved itself an able champion of the city's interests.

South San Francisco has passed through a crisis which was seriously threatening its industrial growth, for it is questionable if heavy manufactories would continue to locate here and labor under the previously existing handicap of high freight rates and territorial discrimination.

This has been swept away by the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has placed South San Francisco on a parity with other industrial sections in so far as transportation costs are concerned. Its natural physical advantages and great stretches of nominal priced lands have always been an admitted advantage.

We have, always had low-priced land. We have always had climatic advantages. We have always enjoyed proximity to the great financial and business center of the Pacific Coast. All this has given us an opportunity; but it is only an opportunity. To realize it will require broad planning and persistent effort.

South San Francisco has come into its own, and should flourish and expand to an almost undreamed degree, now that its only handicap has been removed.

This city's destiny now lies entirely in its own hands, but it is of paramount importance that prospective industries be kept acquainted with its advantages and plans laid along comprehensive and intelligent lines for the further locating of factories here.

The key to it all is publicity. We want prospective land buyers to know all about South San Francisco. We want them to reap profits here. We want them to know of the growth and successes of the enterprises already located here, in short to tell them how useful we can be to them.

It is our cue now to take the initiative and spread the news of South San Francisco's advantages broadcast. The expenditures may be somewhat large, but the profits will come to us individually as a matter of course.

A unification and cohesion of all who have the city's interests at heart is now paramount, for the future of South San Francisco, "the industrial city of great potentialities," can now be assured.

The High Cost of Living has neither been an invited nor a welcome visitor. When it makes its bow of farewell we shall all be ready to speed the parting guest.

In securing the "dry" camel the nation is making an interesting addition to its menagerie. It already possessed the Democratic donkey and the G. O. P. elephant, and now only needs a box of monkeys to complete its collection. Perhaps the I. W. W.'s will favor.

It is evidently the opinion of the Senate that James Monroe had better come back and look after his doctrine, which appears to be in some danger of collapse.

John Barleycorn will soon be buried and Aqua Pura will attend the funeral.

Full stomachs and settled government evidently go together—else why food to prevent Bolshevism?

Wanted—Men accustomed to repairing, to remake one world in bad condition. Quick and skillful workers required.

Both parties are on the lookout for good presidential timber. It must be good, in order eventually to fit well in a cabinet.

France, England and the United States will speak in firm and equal voices at the peace conference.

The dries are satisfied, the wets are dissatisfied. But how about the South San Francisco citizens who are wetter than dry and dryer than wet—how do they take it?

Dr. Liebknecht's death causes us to reflect on the constant hazard attending the life of a revolutionist. The only thing which offsets it is the fact that such a life does not contain a dull moment.

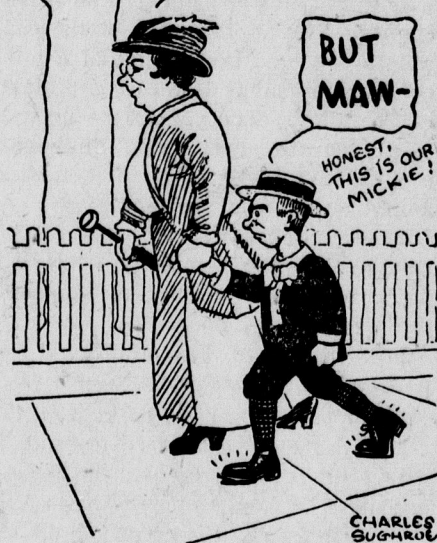

America can now gratify to the utmost her love for parades. There are plenty of fifes and drums and khaki at hand.

Germany has formed the habit of strife. If she cannot have war she will have riots.

RESISTS OFFICER; GETS TWENTY DAYS

GEORGE HOGAN GETS LONGER SENTENCE BY FIGHTING THAN OTHERWISE.

George Hogan, 25, a discharged soldier of San Francisco, who is employed at the Schaw-Batcher shipyards, on Wednesday began serving a sentence of twenty days in the county jail on a charge of resisting an officer, following his arrest in Daly City by City Marshal Henry Toft and Deputy Sheriff Louis Gregorie. He was sentenced by Justice of the Peace Ellis C. Johnson.

Hogan was approached by Gregorie when he started a disturbance while intoxicated. He began to fight, but was quickly subdued.

The announcement that William Hohenzollern has just received from Germany two hundred bags of gold indicates that he also was a piker when the government loan-drives were in progress.

Senator La Follette wants to know why American soldiers were sent to Russia. No wonder the Senator's in the dark on this point, since he never knew why they were sent to France.

MAN BELIEVED INSANE GOES TO COUNTY JAIL

J. Olsen, an employee of the Pacific Coast Steel Mill, was committed to the county jail for thirty days by Judge Buck of the Superior Court, following his going on a rampage in a local restaurant.

Olsen claims to remember nothing of the happening, and he will be observed as to his sanity while incarcerated at Redwood. He was arrested by Chief of Police Conrad.

According to witnesses, Olsen appeared to go temporarily insane in the restaurant and it took several men to overcome him.

This is the second time the man has been in custody in the past two weeks. When previously arrested it took Sheriff Sheehan, Jailer Hogan, Chief Conrad and two others to place him in a straightjacket.

German papers say that Theodore Roosevelt was the "arch enemy" of Germany. This is the most complete and wholly satisfactory eulogy that has yet been uttered.

CALIFORNIA GIRLS GO

OVERSEAS FOR Y. M. C. A.

California girls, the real wholesome, energetic, appealing kind, the sort of a girl a fellow thinks of as like his sister, are on their way overseas to help in the Y. M. C. A. caenteens in France.

Miss Sophronia L. Bunker of Mill Valley, Marin county, is one of these. She was president of the Girls' Athletic Club when she attended Tamalpais high school. She helped organize the motor corps for the National League for Women's Service in California and held the rank of major.

Miss Edith White of Petaluma, Sonoma county, is another. She did valuable work for the Red Cross and in the motor corps of the National League for Women's Service she gained the rank of captain.

From Willows, Glenn county, has gone Miss Edna M. Prentice. She taught school and assisted in the direction of playgrounds. She also worked in a recreational center in Santa Barbara and managed a school cafeteria.

Thomas H. Burns passed away on Saturday last at the age of 58 years. The deceased was a native of Ireland.

Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery on Monday at 2 p. m.

The funeral arrangements were under the direction of F. Neri Bros.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY SERVICES

The Christian Science Society of South San Francisco will hold services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. and services Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Fraternal Hall, Grand avenue, near Maple. Subject of lesson sermon, "Love."

Miss Olive Gordon of Oakland, a well-known teacher in the public schools of that city, a member of the Sierra Club; Miss Constance Kemble of 1005 Powell street, San Francisco, a grand opera singer, and Miss Isabelle Wilkie of 2 Hugo street, San Francisco, are already overseas. Miss Kemble is one of the few women secretaries to be sent to Italy.

PUBLIC WELFARE WORK

Under this heading The Enterprise will publish weekly articles furnished by the San Mateo Conference of Social Agencies, dealing with public welfare work.

The San Mateo Welfare Shop.

The San Mateo Welfare Shop was opened in the year 1918, primarily for the purpose of raising money for war relief. An appeal was made to the community for donations of clothing, bric-a-brac, furniture or anything salable. A hearty response followed this appeal and many valuable and artistic articles found their way to the Welfare Shop.

As many of the directors of the shop were familiar with the needs of our country, it was decided to devote one-half of the proceeds of the shop to war relief, the other to local welfare work. In determining the policy of the shop in local welfare work, a preventive and constructive program was adopted, rather than one of relief, although relief has been given in many families. The management, realizing that the indiscriminate giving of relief is the most prolific source of pauperism, decided that relief should be given only after an investigation and with a well-defined plan for the rehabilitation of the family. As the recent Social Service Commission was already organized and doing this work, the Welfare Shop referred all families for relief to the commission for investigation and recommendation, and co-operated with the commission in carrying out the plan for the family.

Illness is the chief cause of destitution, and the resources of the county in providing proper care for the sick are very limited. Early in the year 1918, the first step in public health work was taken by the recent Social Service Commission, and the Welfare Shop felt that it could be of no greater service to the county than in joining forces with the public health service in the work of caring for the destitute sick, and in co-operating in the greater work of prevention.

The public health service has sent many patients to the various hospitals in San Francisco for expert specialist treatment, also patients ill with contagious diseases. This was necessary, as in many cases accommodation was not obtainable in San Mateo county. In this work the Welfare Shop has paid the cost of care for eighteen children and three adults. One patient, the mother of two children, had been an invalid for two years prior to the time she had become known to the nurse, but now, after a five weeks' stay at the hospital, where she underwent a much-needed operation, she is able to care for her home and children. The cost of care and treatment in this case was about $100, which amount the family would never have been able to secure as it was already heavily in debt because of the long illness. Crippled and deformed children, through the financial support of the shop, have been provided with expert care, which in many cases will result in their complete recovery.

In co-operation with the public health service, in their program of preventive work, the shop has paid the cost of equipping a dental clinic in Daly City (the very first in the county) and is paying the cost of maintenance. Through the generosity of one of its directors, a second dental clinic has been opened in San Mateo, and the Welfare Shop will also maintain this clinic.

Now that the war is over, the entire proceeds of the shop will be used for county welfare work. The keynote of the shop is "Service," and it stands pledged to co-operate with all forces working for social betterment. "He gives not best who gives most, but he gives most who gives best."

The peace table has begun on, the soup and fish. The nut-cracking will, as usual, come at the end.

Warmth and Smartness in Coats

Some people are stepping out of midwinter coats and turning their backs on cold weather to Journey South, and others are just stepping into them bound for the joys of winter sports in the frozen North. These are the firm believers in the tonic of the cold who have learned how to enjoy arctic weather. Then there are all the rest of us who intend to keep warm and aspire to look smart, whatever icy blasts may blow our way. We refuse to be shut in by the weather and require of midwinter coats warmth and smartness. And the demand is answered with coats and other garments of fur and of textiles that are as warm and rich as furs.

All over the country fur garments of one kind or another are the mode. These earliest coverings of the body remain the most desired and rich skins are rich skins, however made up. They are the inspiration of furriers. Here is a coat made of leopard skins with their incomparable natural markings of black in a gold background. It hangs straight and full from the shoulders, without a belt and has a wide cape collar of beaver and deep cuffs to match. The big collar may be rolled up about the neck and ears and the face snuggled down in its warm softness until only the eyes are uncovered. Such a coat carries about sunshine and warmth and almost radiates them. It is fastened with three big tortoise-shell buttons and is three inches shorter than the skirt.

"Velour du nord" is the name of the regal fabric that makes the other coat. It is one of those thick, soft wool cloths that are as protecting and luxurious as a chamol skin, but heavier and softer than this. It is in a dark taupe color with wide cape collar of taupe-lynx fur and deep cuffs to match. It is bordered at the bottom with this fur. The collar can be turned up about the head and the hands find refuge in ample slit pockets. The belt is made of the velour.

SERVICES AT S.

PAUL'S M. E. CHURCH

Rally for the Bible school at 10 o'clock next Sunday. Adults will be specially interested in the newly organized adult class for advanced studies and the discussion of live, up-to-date topics. The holy communion will be observed at the 11 o'clock hour. Citizens of South San Francisco are specially invited to hear the evening subject, "The Old Paths," based on the recent return of Stitt

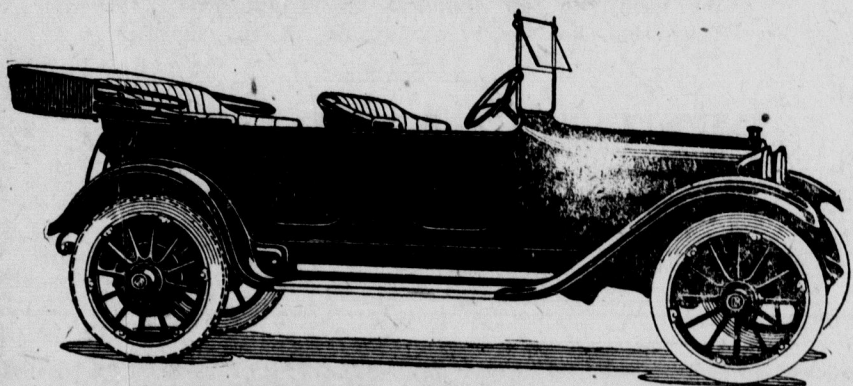

Wilson, socialist, reformer and noted lecturer, to the church he left twenty-two years ago. Are his reasons well founded? Has he taken a backward step? Has he become a reactionary? Why has he ceased to be a political socialist? Has the church changed since he went out from its folds? What lesson are we to learn from this step of one of California's greatest leaders in advanced political and social endeavor?

Come at 7:30 o'clock next Sunday night.

Now that you can build your new home take time to plan it carefully

How many times have we heard, while visiting the newly built homes of friends:

"I wish I had thought to put a light here and another one there. And, just think, I entirely forgot base plugs in the dining room and laundry."

The cheapest time to wire your house is when it is being built. A house is not properly planned these days unless an electrical contractor, dealer or engineer has been consulted.

Many new and important changes in lighting and wiring principles make the ELECTRICAL man the person upon whom your future comfort depends.

Ask your architect to go over the plans with a competent electrical contractor or engineer. Do not accept them until this has been done.

PACIFIC GAS EMPLOYEE FALLS HEIR TO FORTUNE

W. Y. Fleming, night operator at the Pacific Gas and Electric substation at Fourth avenue and C street, San Mateo, Tuesday received word that he has fallen heir to a fortune worth more than $250,000. The joyful news was brought to Fleming by an attorney who came all the way from the East to arrange for the distribution of his share of a valuable estate left by a rich cousin who died recently. The estate is worth upwards of $750,000, and Fleming is one of three heirs who will receive the estate, share and share alike.

CHORUS OF CANINES AROUSES NEIGHBORS' IRE

Because Mrs. Charles Colman, wife of a San Francisco hatter, complained to the Burlingame police that the barking and howling of Francis J. Carolan's dogs disturbed her slumber, Janne Anderson, superintendent of the Carolan kennels, was arrested by Chief of Police L. A. Cavalier for violating a city ordinance prohibiting the keeping of more than two dogs without a permit.

AFFRIGHTED BURGLAR COMMANDEERS TRUCK

Frightened away in his attempt to rob the home of C. S. Prendergast, employee of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and resident of Easton, a burglar Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock dashed from the place and commandeered the delivery truck and service of Benjamin Bogue Jr., 14 years old, of San Mateo, whom he ordered to drive to the nearest car with a threat of death.

CRUSHED BODIES OF WORKMEN REMOVED

The crushed and broken bodies of the two workmen buried beneath 300 tons of falling rock at the United Railroads quarry in Daly City Monday, were recovered at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, after a gang of twenty-five men, working in relays, had dug for twelve hours. The men were buried when the cliff wall crumbled in upon them. They are:

Puleini, Andrew, 46 years; married; Los Angeles street, San Francisco.

Caniveri, Eugene, 31 years, single; 60 Bauer street, San Francisco.

The memory of an injury is long; of a favor, short.

NO FLU IN REDWOOD CITY, SAYS CITY HEALTH OFFICER

The influenza situation in Redwood City is so improved that Dr. J. E. Chapin, city health officer there, said that he "knew of not a single case of flu in the city."

Redwood doffed its masks last week, and no new cases have developed since, according to the records.

MAYOR ROLPH CLOSE TO DOUBLE SMASH UP

"If I could get you away from these women, I'd smash you in the jaw."

No, these belligerent words are not from a movie film, but were uttered by Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco Sunday afternoon to W. B. Young of San Jose.

Young, it is alleged by Mayor Rolph, who had him arrested on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, ran into the mayor's car in Redwood City, flattening one of its fenders, then, it is declared, heaped profane invective upon the members of Rolph's party.

Deputy Sheriff T. C. McGovern of Redwood City was called to the scene of the trouble and brought Young to the county jail, from where he was later released on $500 bail. He will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin.

ELKS PLAN NIGHT FOR FORMER EXALTED RULERS

San Mateo Elks' lodge is planning its annual past exalted rulers' night, when the former executives of the lodge take control of affairs for the evening. It will take place on Wednesday evening, February 5, and a large initiation will be held in conjunction with the ritualistic work by past exalted rulers.

Among the past officers who will officiate on this occasion are: Lee H. Newbert, William D. Shawhan, Hall C. Ross, John P. Duffy, Frank P. Simmen, Charles G. Lambert, Horace Walling and Harry F. Robb.

HEARD ABOUT THE SCHAW- BATCHER SHIPYARDS

One of the new arrivals at the plant the other day was a MR. ADAM GOODPASTURE. Well, even if it is a good one, why swear about it?

Recently a gentleman applied for a job at the employment office. "What is your name?" asked Employment Manager Bishop.

"Me name is Patrick Branagan Casey, sorr."

"Begorrah! give him a job right away, Carasso; any man with a name like that MUST be all right."

An employee who hails from "Sunny Italy," seeing he was going to miss the train, started running after it. After a few minutes of running he came to a stop. The guard at the west gate said, laughingly, "Well, Tony, you missed it after all, didn't you?" To which Tony replied, "Yes, I know I did, but I made it a-puffa like a son-of-a-gun."

Here's a conversation overheard the other day at the employment office:

"Do you want any drillers to-day, sir?"

"Yes, sir, we do; we can use an experienced driller."

"I am an experienced driller, sir."

"Where have you been drilling?"

"Why, I have been drilling in a camp."

"What kind of drilling have you been doing?"

"Why, all kinds of drilling—bayonet drill, rifle drill, er—"

"Wait a minute, sir, this is a shipyard, NOT a military camp. What else can you do?"

"I can milk cows."

Forty letters they had written to their boy in France were returned unopened to his Ohio parents. No doubt the Postoffice Department will take pride in the fact that the letters got back to the place where they started.

WHERE WOUNDED MEN YIELD TO DAY DREAMS

Restored to Health and Vigor in Red Cross Convalescent Homes.

The surgeon has extracted the impartially distributed bits of shrapnel from your works. The wounds have healed. The wheels go 'round again, and the clock ticks.

But it doesn't keep correct time.

This business of calling "Time!" on the Boche means so many broken clocks nowadays that the master-menders can't keep them on their tables after they're mended. So the question where they shall sit around while they're being regulated looms large.

The Red Cross answers that question with its convalescent homes. It has six of these in operation. A suitable place is found—sometimes donated—and management and equipment are provided by the Red Cross, while the Army has furnished discipline and a never-failing supply of convalescents.

These homes mean that men who are scarcely hospital subjects, yet who can by no means go back to their duties, have a place that does what "home" does for the French or English soldier, what "home" does for any one, in fact, when the doctor gets through.

You know. He says: "You're all right now. It's only a matter of nursing and food."

But you know he's only looking at the works he's tinkered, and that the soul within you is grousing as it never did when the body was down and out. It wants something, and it doesn't know what it is. But if it doesn't get it pretty quick the works are going to get gummed again. You know your mother could find out what that dog-gone thing is right away and hand it to you on a plate. But General Pershing won't let you go to her. * * * And the War Department won't let her come to you.

Then you're taken to a Red Cross convalescent home—and there is the very thing you wanted! But you couldn't describe it even then to save your life.

It is a bit of coddling, and pretty surroundings, and women's faces, and light laughter and time to play and all that sort of thing. It is forgetting the crash of war and remembering that there are pleasant, soft voices. It's even such things as gaily-flowered sofa pillows to jam into a corner and make a nice lolling place while you read and smoke and talk. It's slippers instead of trench boots, or day-dreams in place of the nightmare of killing.

N. A. WRIGHT GIVEN WATCH CHARM BY HIS DEPARTMENT

STUDY YOUR GOVERNMENT.

There are some business men who take pride in boasting that they are "not politicians." Whether that is a cause for pride depends upon what is meant by a "politician." In a republic where every man takes a direct part in government, it is the duty of every man to be a politician to the extent of helping secure the best candidates to represent the best government principles and politics. It is every man's duty to help see that the men selected to serve in public office tender that service in the most acceptable manner. If work of this kind is being shirked, it is something to be ashamed of, rather than to boast of. With each succeeding year government is exercising more and more influence upon business, for good or ill. More and more, therefore, business men should exercise an influence upon government. Leaving it to the professional politician is neither good citizenship or good business.—Ex.

SEES NO ROMANCE IN LAND OF FRANCE

BERT DU BOIS FAILS TO FIND A PRETTY GIRL, BUT LOCATES
RAIN AND MUD.

Henry Haaker is in receipt of the following characteristic letter from Bert Du Bois, who is now overseas: Montierchaume, Dec. 27, 1918.

Dear Old Henry: Well, Henry, I suppose you have been wondering what in h— has been the matter with me and why I haven't written to you long before. To be absolutely frank with you, I can not tell you why I have not.

Our trip over was quite uneventful and the sea was very smooth. We had a couple of days of winds, but the seas were not large. We traveled on the U. S. S. De Kalb. She was the Prince Eitel Frederick while in German hands and was a sea raider for twenty-two months.

We landed at Brest, France, and spent about ten days in a rest camp before proceeding to our present camp. They call it a rest camp, because if you ever get a chance to lay down to rest you are lucky. But we lived through it, so I guess it could have been worse.

When you and Lena take your tenth wedding anniversary tour do not visit France, as that stretch of land between your town and San Bruno has got anything I have seen here cheated to death. As far as the land and climate are concerned, the French ought to give their whole country to the Germans and apologize for the condition of things. And do not let any one tell you that France is full of pretty women, because that also is the bunk. I have been looking for a pretty girl ever since I have been here, but so far my search has been a rank failure.

The only thing they have here is lots of rain, mud and wine. You can buy wine at every farm house. By the way the company is acting tonight a tank car of wine must have pulled up on the siding. You ought to see one of these French tank cars. The whole car is about twelve feet long. The tank is just a big hogs-head held on with strap iron. The car is carried on two-wheeled trucks, in other words there are only four wheels under the whole car and those are about twice as high as our American wheels. The engines they have here remind one of a bad dream. They are the smallest, ugliest, most ungainly things you ever laid your eyes on. The tender is made integral and the engineer has to stand up continually. Any self-respecting American contractor would be ashamed to use one as a dinkey.

We did not get a chance to see any real action; in fact, never getting within a hundred miles of the front. I would have given five years of my life if I could have gotten into a real honest-to-God scrap with those stupid-faced squareheads. There are a lot of German prisoners working here, and, believe me, you could not get them away from here, as long as fighting was going on, with a team of Missouri mules. We also have a big bunch of Italian soldiers here and oodles of negroes.

We had a very nice dinner Christmas day. We had everything the countryside affords nearly, far better than the other two companies of marines that are here with us. The Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. made us presents of candy, nuts and chocolate; we had lots of mistletoe and plenty of rain, so the day was very enjoyable.

I wish I was in San Francisco to celebrate New Year's eve. I would take in every cabaret in town and have a table reserved in about half of them. The only thing I would miss would be my dear little wife, and I certainly would miss her pleasant company.

Henry, give my regards and extend my best wishes to all my friends that are in the bank with you and be sure and include Andy McSweeney.

I am in very good health aside from a very sore throat, which is due I suppose to such beastly weather. I will close, wishing you the best of health and luck.

Your old friend,

BERT.

Also it may be possible that a majority of the Germans consider it cheaper to go Bolshevik than to pay an indemnity.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, Etc. J. Stuart Blackton's "Missing" to Be Shown Tuesday at Royal Theatre

J. STUART BLACKTON presents "MISSING"

A Paramount Picture

One poignant scene in "Missing," J. Stuart Blackton's latest production for Paramount, which will be shown at the Royal Theatre next Tuesday, shows how a young soldier has to leave Nell, his bride of a week, for the front. As the moments of their last hour before the leavetaking pass, they watch the clock, and even turn it back to steal a few precious moments. The picture was made from Mrs. Humphrey Ward's famous novel and the scenes are laid in England.

By singing a simple little love song, "Bonnie Sweet Bessie," Nell wins back the memory of her soldier husband, and so saves his life. The soldier is wounded and all efforts to restore his memory have failed until the young wife comes to the rescue. The sounds of "Bonnie Sweet Bessie," which was a favorite song of the soldier and his bride before their marriage, restores the soldier's memory. Sylvia Breamer plays the wife and Robert Gordon is seen as the young lieutenant.

representing the Downtown Association, Real Estate Board, Home Industry League, Civic League, North Central Improvement Association and the Mission Promotion Association, all complaining that South San Francisco was being discriminated against by reason of the exclusion of her industries from the San Francisco switching limits of the Southern Pacific.

Go to Washington

When the United States Railroad Administration took over control of the rail lines of the country, the Southern Pacific Company questioned the jurisdiction of the California Railroad Commission, and P. R. Thompson made a trip to Washington, D. C., to confer with the Railroad Administration. Following this conference the case was, in November, taken to the Interstate Commerce Commission for settlement.

News of the decision of that body was announced in a telegraphic report from Washington, Monday, to Arthur B. Roehl, attorney for the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

The synopsis of the report which was wired Monday reads:

(1) On certain interstate traffic to and from South San Francisco the Southern Pacific charged 50 cents a ton, in addition to the rates to and from San Francisco. It is found that South San Francisco is unduly prejudiced to the extent that like traffic is switched by the Southern Pacific Company without charge to points in the San Francisco and Oakland switching districts in connection with a line haul over its rails and for $2.50 per car in connection with line hauls over the Santa Fe and Western Pacific.

Unduly Prejudicial

(2) A charge of 50 cents per ton between South San Francisco and San Francisco on traffic arriving at or leaving San Francisco by water carriers is unduly prejudicial to South San Francisco to the extent that it exceeds a switching charge of 25 cents a ton on like traffic between Oakland long wharf and Elmhurst in the city of Oakland.

BOVINES FIGURE IN CIVIL SUITS

TROUBLE OVER COWS BRINGS OWNERS BEFORE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE SMITH.

Cows figure largely in the civil suits scheduled for Justice of the Peace William J. Smith's court in South San Francisco in the near future.

Jack Welch, poundman of South San Francisco, has filed suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad for $100, alleged to be the value of a cow which wandered on to the Southern Pacific track in South San Francisco and met sudden death under the wheels. Welch contends that the carelessness of the company in not repairing a broken fence was the direct cause of his bovine leaving pasture to go exploring.

Attorney J. W. Coleberd has filed suit in Smith's court for George Forster of San Bruno against Poundmaster Stewart of San Bruno. The sum sued for is $10, representing the loss sustained by the absence of the cow from her regular domicile for a day or two, when Stewart recently took her, according to the owner, from Mrs. Forster, who was leading the animal to pasture.

Forster was acquitted in Town Recorder Custer's court some time ago of keeping his cow in an emaciated condition. That complaint was brought by Stewart. Later, according to Forster, Stewart approached Mrs. Forster on the street and took the cow away. A writ of replevin issued by Justice Smith resulted in the bovine's return and the filing of the suit.

ASKS DAMAGES.

Edward O'Connor of Daly City has filed suit in the justice court at South San Francisco against Max Harris of San Francisco for $264, representing damages to his machine alleged to have been sustained when struck by Harris' car. The case will be heard by Justice William J. Smith.

"TOO MUCH COPY."

An advertisement is weakened if it is loaded down with words—too much copy.

"White space" speaks in silent tones, and we all know that "silence is golden." There are times when a word too much may spoil everything. It is the last straw which breaks the camel's back.

Many sales are lost because salesmen talk themselves out of orders. Words have power—both to enhance or destroy effective expression.

Advertising copy that uses words wisely and sparingly is certain to put sales-power into the advertiser's message. Think of how few words are used in advertising Pear's Soap or Gold Dust or any of the big sellers.

One idea at a time in an advertisement is a good rule—although a difficult one to follow. It is, however, a safe one and the nearer it is approximated the better for your advertising.

A man who talks too much makes himself a bore. Nobody pays any attention to him. People avoid him. He becomes a nuisance.

An advertisement with too much copy falls flat and gray and lifeless on the printed page. It spoils good white paper and attracts but little attention. It talks itself out of the sale because it is nothing but "words, words, words."

Such advertisements are seldom effective nor profitable. They are a waste, and a waste is a nuisance or worse—Chicago Advertising.

Edsel Ford, twenty-four-year-old son of Henry Ford, has been made president of the Ford Company at a salary of $150,000 a year. Which makes one more Ford that got there without a self-starter.

RUSSIAN PRINCESSES LEARN TO TRIM HATS

Y. W. C. A. Saves Wife of General From Becoming Charwoman.

When the war work of the Y. W. C. A. in Russia has all been told one of the most interesting stories will lie in the establishment of the first Women's Co-operative Association at Moscow.

There day after day princesses work side by side with peasant girls, wives of high Russian officials make dresses or trim hats at long tables with simple, unlettered women, and the money is used for self support of these princesses and notable women as well as for the peasant classes.

The need and suffering throughout all Russia was so great at the time the Association was established that it was a problem to find where the money would help the greatest number of people. It was thought best to expend it to help capitalize organizations for giving work and permanent opportunities to families and individuals to earn their own living.

The women bring their handwork to the Association for sale or take orders to do dressmaking, millinery, etc., in the rooms of the society or at home. Suitable work was found just in time not long ago to keep the wife of one of Russia's greatest generals from going out as a charwoman to earn bread for her husband, who was ill.

FINED $50 FOR SELLING ADULTERATED MILK

It cost the National Dairy Company of San Francisco just $50 to peddle adulterated milk in South San Francisco. On complaint of G. M. Colter of the State Dairy Bureau, a summons was issued against the company Monday, and Justice of the Peace William J. Smith imposed the fine. It was found on analytical examination of the National Dairy's milk that the butter-fat and solid content were below the State requirements.

Carrot Seed in California.

California is the largest producer of carrot seed. Sacramento and Yolo counties rank first, with San Joaquin, Contra Costa, Santa Clara, and San Benito counties ranking as minor producers. In the production of radish seed the situation is reversed, the coast counties of California producing the bulk of the crop, and the river district being unimportant as a producer. It is also grown in the Pacific Northwest. Beet seed is grown in both the river and coast districts of California, but is probably grown more extensively around Sacramento than in any other portion of the State. Lettuce seed is grown almost exclusively near the coast section of California.
